

GIVE WHERE YOU LIVE

Keller Williams' annual day of giving is proud to partner with Warren County Habitat for Humanity, VA

This year Warren County Habitat for Humanity is working with the Bushrod Family building their home. The Bushrods are grandparents raising their school aged grand children and are excited about building a stable and safe place to call home. Building the home that will providing a secure future, knowing that this home will forever change the generations to come is a dream come true.

Please join us on our day of service for this family and please consider providing donations to help with our home build as well as future builds and lets change generations together for the better.
